The Appellate Tribunal for Foreign Exchange & ors. Respondents

CORAM : F.I.REBELLO &
ANOOP V. MOHTA,JJ.

DATED : 20th November, 2006

P.C.

Considering the law laid down by the Supreme Court in Grindlays Bank Ltd. vs. Industrial Tribunal, (1981) 2 SCR 341, there is inherent power in every Tribunal to exercise its power of procedural review which includes setting aside the exparte orders. It will therefore be open to the petitioners to apply to the Appellate Tribunal for setting aside the exparte order.

2. Considering that the petitioners have alternate remedy, we are not inclined to exercise our extraordinary jurisdiction. Petition stands disposed of accordingly.
